Memorable Melody: 'When Irish Eyes Are Smiling'

This beloved musical tribute to the Emerald Isle was written by three Americans in 1912, at a time when Irish ballads were enormously popular in the U.S. Chauncey Olcott, George Graff Jr. and Ernest Ball wrote the song for the Broadway play "The Isle O' Dreams," and its lighthearted lyrics and catchy melody appealed to audiences. Along with becoming a St. Patrick's Day standard, the tune has been featured in dozens of Irish-themed films and TV shows.

Memorable Melody: 'I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover'

This lively tune became a chart-topping hit in 1948, when bandleader Art Mooney and his orchestra revived the 1927 song. You also may have heard Bugs Bunny, Daffy Duck and Tweety sing various renditions in several Merrie Melodies cartoon shorts. The song's lyrics, written by Mort Dixon and Harry M. Woods, describe what each leaf of a lucky four-leaf clover signifies: sunshine, rain, roses and "somebody I adore."

Answer: First, tulips, then the daffodils, zinnias and dahlias.
